The House Passes the Postoffice Appropriation Bill.

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Legislation Recommended to Prevent Cases of Individual Hardship in Enforcement of the Restriction Act—The Tariff Bill

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Plumb presented a petition of an association of colored citizens of Kansas praying for assistance to emigrate to Africa with a view of there finding [illegible]. The joint motion was agreed.

Blair reported favorably, with an amendment, from the committee on education and labor the arbitration bill recently passed by the house of representatives.

THE ARMY BILL.

Consideration of the army bill was resumed [illegible]

[illegible]

Manderson supported the bill. He called attention to [illegible] the Indian frontier and the danger [illegible] at any time. [illegible] Winchester rifle. [illegible] when there would be trouble with Red Cloud and his warriors.

[illegible]

The chair laid before the senate a message from the president relating to the subject of Chinese immigration. The message was read and referred to the committee on foreign relations.

After an executive session the senate adjourned.

CONFIRMATIONS.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The senate in executive session to-day confirmed the nomination of Henry Vignaud of Louisiana to be secretary of legation at Paris; John Oberly of Illinois and Charles Lyman of Connecticut to be civil service commissioners, and S. M. Stockslager of Indiana to be assistant commissioner of the general land office.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Phelps of New Jersey from the committee on foreign affairs reported a resolution calling on the secretary of state for copies of all correspondence between his department and representatives of France, Germany, Austria and any other European countries which have partially or entirely restricted the importation of American pork, referring to the facts of such exclusion and restriction and reasons given therefor; adopted.

Among the petitions presented were a large number from local assemblies of Knights of Labor throughout the country protesting against the passage of the free ship bill; referred.

In the morning the house resumed consideration of the bill to secure equitable classification and compensation of certain officers of the United States. Pending action, the morning hour expired.

THE POSTOFFICE BILL PASSED.

Then there was a prospect of a struggle for the right of way between the silver bill and postoffice appropriation bill, but in the interest of speedy transaction of business, Bland of Missouri gave way and the house went into committee of the whole on the postoffice appropriation bill.

[illegible] of Pennsylvania offered an amendment increasing from $4,800,000 to $4,850,000 the appropriation for [illegible] postal clerks. Lost.

Burrows of Michigan offered an amendment increasing the appropriation for transportation of foreign mails from $[illegible] to $[illegible].

Phelps of New Jersey favored the amendment. What good had come of the foreign mail provision in the postoffice appropriation bill of last year? American ships did not carry foreign mails. [illegible]

[illegible]

Randall also sustained the action of the postmaster-general and thought that [illegible]

[illegible]

The amendment was lost. [illegible]

The committee then rose and the bill was passed.

The house then adjourned.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS.

TARIFF BILL READY FOR THE HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The house committee on ways and means to-day received the administrative tariff bill from the printer, and resumed its consideration. A number of minor changes in the administrative portion of the bill were made. Horse seed for agricultural purposes was put on the free list and the duty on cordage of all kinds was reduced one cent per pound. The provision relating to the importation of fish was laid aside on account of the absence of Representative Mayberry. With this exception the bill is practically completed and will probably be ready to report to the house Thursday next.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The tariff bill has not yet been reported to the house and it is not known exactly when it will be, though it may be on Thursday. Randall says little or nothing, but his friends feel positive that he will oppose the measure. Representatives of the wool interests have gone home certain that the tariff on wool cannot be put upon the free list, and there are influences at work which show that the sentiment against the Morrison bill is increasing. [illegible] Southern congressmen went to Morrison and appealed to him to withdraw it.

THE TELEPHONE INVESTIGATION.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Solicitor General Goode was before the Pan Electric investigating committee again to-day and on cross examination by Mr. Ranney said he was not aware of using any [illegible] haste in ordering the suit against Bell; neither had he given any thought to the motives of the attorney who offered to appear in the suit without compensation from the government. [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

Who do you think will be his successor? Probably Mr. [illegible]

NO PAPERS ON FILE.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Senator Morrill reported from the finance committee a resolution [illegible] that there are no papers in the department about the moral character or official record of any of the suspended internal collectors about whom the committee has made inquiries. The resolution of Senator Morrill said was adopted by a unanimous vote of the committee.

RUSHING THROUGH THE ARBITRATION BILL.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The senate committee on education and labor at a special meeting this morning ordered a special report on the arbitration bill without amendment. Senator Blair in reporting it to the senate gave notice that he would call it up at the first opportunity.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Legislation Recommended for the Benefit of Chinese Other than Laborers.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The senate received from the president to-day a long message transmitting correspondence between the secretary of state and the Chinese minister with regard to the treaty rights of Chinese subjects, other than laborers, to go and come of their own free will and accord. The president says that cases of individual hardship beyond the power of the executive to remedy have occurred by the application of the Chinese acts which need to ambiguous and defective provisions of the acts of congress. The hardship has in some cases been increased by the courts [illegible] and denied an opportunity to show their rights.

A COMPLAINT.

The complaint of the Chinese minister is that the Chinese merchant Lin Sung, of the house of Kin Lee & Co. of San Francisco, having arrived at San Francisco from Hong Kong and exhibited a certificate of the U. S. consul at Hong Kong as to his status as a merchant, and consequently entitled under the treaty, was refused permission to land and was sent back to Hong Kong by the steamer which brought him. It is to be remembered, the president says, that there is at Hong Kong no representative of the government of China competent and authorized to issue the certificate required by the statute. [illegible] thus defeated by a prohibition directly contrary to the treaty, and the conditions of which, in the words of the supreme court, was physically impossible. [illegible] the good faith of the United States in the execution of their treaty engagements.

THE SPLIT IN THE CABINET.

LONDON, April 6.—It was stated in the lobby of the house of commons this evening that Messrs. Mundella and Childers have resigned their seats in the cabinet. [illegible] The conclusion of opinion was that the present government was doomed. The latest information, however, is that [illegible] Mr. Gladstone modifies his proposals regarding the customs [illegible] the English parliament the right to veto all [illegible] of Ireland [illegible]. The malcontents consequently withheld their resignations.

Mr. Gladstone is thoroughly supported in all his proposals by Earl Granville, Earl Rosebery, the Marquis of Ripon and Mr. Campbell Bannerman. Sir Farrar Herschel does not participate in the discussion of the home rule bill [illegible]

Mr. Gladstone is in robust health and good voice and is confident of success on Thursday. Mr. Chamberlain will speak after Mr. Gladstone and Lord Hartington [illegible]

JAY GOULD A FIEND INCARNATE

Heavy Snow Storm in the Interior and Floods Along the Coast—Million Dollar Fire at La Crosse Wisconsin

ST. LOUIS, April 6.—[illegible] executive board of the Knights of Labor have sent a delegation to [illegible] Hon. A. C. Curtin [illegible]

AN ADDRESS TO WORKMEN.

ST. LOUIS, April 6.—The joint executive committee who have been in session most of the day have finished an address to workingmen of the world which will be published this afternoon. It is a rhetorical [illegible] strong denunciation of Jay Gould, referring to him as the incarnation of the evil of monopoly and calling on the working men of the world to assist in his overthrow as their only salvation.

TEXT OF THE ADDRESS.

The joint executive board of assemblies 101 and 17 Knights of Labor this afternoon issued the following address:

To the Workmen of the World: Friends and Brothers: Hear us, for we plead for our rights. Men of every [illegible] look upon us, for we struggle against giants of wrong [illegible] and self adulation. Begotten as it is of success of strategy and infamy, there stands before us a giant [illegible] wealth. [illegible]

[illegible]

Fellow workmen, Gould must be overthrown. His giant power must be broken or we and ours must be slaves forever. The Knights of Labor alone have dared to be David to this Goliath. The battle is not for to-day—the battle is not for to-morrow, but for trooping generations in coming ages of the world, for our children and our children's children. This is the great question of the age: Shall we in coming ages be a nation of free men or a nation of slaves? The question must be decided now. The chains are already forged that are to bind us. Shall we wait until they are riveted upon our limbs? No! God forbid.

A CALL TO ARMS.

Workmen of the world, marshal yourselves upon the battlefield. Workmen of every trade and clime, on to the fray. Gould and his monopolies must go down, or your children must be slaves. Think of the little olive plants around your hearthstones that will be blighted by his curse. Think of the little home he is seeking to rob you of. Think of [illegible] from whose eyes he has wrung floods of tears [illegible] from whose heart has tortured drops of blood. [illegible]

THE SITUATION AT FORT WORTH.

FORT WORTH, Tex., April 6.—To-day at noon the last of the troops left, and the city is without protection from outside sources except two companies of State Rangers, who will remain here [illegible]. Trains have been moving all day with [illegible] opposition. The Knights of Labor adopted resolutions declaring themselves law abiding citizens and condemning all acts of lawlessness and violence. The indications are that the trouble [illegible]

SEVERAL VILLAGES INUNDATED.

BERLIN, April 6.—Reports of damage by flood in the Danzic district continue to be received. Several villages have been inundated.

Ghirardelli's chocolate has been the leading brand for the past 20 years. It is still the favorite.

BIG FIRE AT LA CROSSE.

A Million Dollars' Worth of Property Destroyed, and Hundreds Made Homeless.

LACROSSE, Wis., April 6.—Fire broke out in John Paul's and Charles L. Colman's lumber yard at 10 o'clock this morning, destroying the mills and several million feet of lumber. This is the greatest conflagration ever experienced here. The loss at noon was half a million dollars. At 1 o'clock the fire was still raging. The fire department is doing its best to stop the progress of the flames but with little effect. It looks at this hour as though the fire would destroy a million dollars worth of property.

[illegible] P. M.—The fire is still burning fiercely and beyond control of the fire department. Calls for assistance have been sent to St. Paul and other points. It is impossible to estimate the loss at this time, but it will exceed $1,000,000.

[illegible] P. M.—The fire was brought under control [illegible]. The total area burned is five blocks [illegible]

THE LOSSES.

[illegible] The departments from Winona and Sparta, Wis., rendered excellent aid. Engines from St. Paul and Minneapolis were ready to start by special train, but were telegraphed to be stopped.

A careful estimate of the loss places the total between $600,000 and $1,000,000 [illegible]

STORM AND FLOOD.

TRAFFIC SUSPENDED AT DETROIT.

DETROIT, April 6.—The present storm is [illegible] the worst experienced in this state for many years. Early this morning several attempts were made to run street cars, but snow drifted so rapidly that it became impossible to keep the tracks clear, and cars are snow bound at various points on nearly all the lines in the city. One or two lines refused to try strength with the elements and their cars are safely stabled. Traffic is almost entirely suspended, it being extremely difficult to get along the streets in any manner. [illegible] The entire southern part of the state is covered with snow. It is announced by the signal service that the present storm will continue through the night. Telegraph business is much delayed or entirely stopped.

CHICAGO, April 6.—A heavy snowstorm accompanied by high winds has resulted in practically cutting off all telegraphic communication between the West and New York. The storm center is near Buffalo and extends north into Canada and south covering Cleveland, Pittsburg, Detroit, Cincinnati and even south of the Ohio river. [illegible] officials have expressed the belief that it will be only temporary. [illegible]

FLOODS IN PENNSYLVANIA.

AN ANGRY SEA.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Dispatches from along the coast report tides as unusually high. In a number of places wreckage is reported as coming ashore and the sea is running very high. The stranded steamer Crystal City was badly broken by the storm of last night [illegible]. The Jersey Meadows and low lands along the Hudson are covered with water. Advices from the interior of the state show that many localities are blocked by landslides and washouts and country roads are reported impassable.

THREE MEN DROWNED.

ST. LOUIS, April 6.—A special from Owensboro, Ky., says the steamer Mountain Boy [illegible] fourteen other persons were saved.

RAILROAD NOTES.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Commissioner of Railroads Johnson appeared before the postoffice committee of the house to-day to explain the attitude assumed by the department in the matter of alleged discrimination by the Pacific railroad companies in favor of the Western Union telegraph company. He said that the Baltimore & Ohio telegraph company had solicited aid of the government in compelling the Pacific railroad companies to allow them the use of their wires on like terms with the Western Union, but that the interior department felt that it had no authority in the case. If congress should see fit to confer the necessary authority on the department, he believed that the matter complained of could be more speedily settled upon than through the medium of the courts.

NORTHWESTERN TRAFFIC ASSOCIATION.

CHICAGO, April 6.—Railway lines formerly composing the Northwestern traffic association held a session here to-day in an attempt to restore freight rates. The Illinois Central failed to send a representative, but offered to do so to-morrow and the managers adjourned. They were of the opinion that an agreement would be reached to establish summer tariffs [illegible]

Advices from China and Japan—The Pacific Mail Subsidy—Hostiles to be Sent to St Augustine Fla

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—His excellency Chang Yen Hoon, the new Chinese ambassador to the United States, accompanied by twenty attendants, arrived to-day by the steamer Gaelic from Hong Kong. He will remain here one week, and then go direct to Washington.

Capt. S. M. Mills, United States army, late disbursing officer of the signal service, is also among the arrivals.

HIS CREDENTIALS DEMANDED.

Just as the minister, followed by his suite, was about to step ashore he was stopped by a customs officer who informed him that he could not allow him to pass until he had shown by properly authenticated documents that he was entitled to land in the United States. The Chinese consul-general and Chinese consul, who were present to receive the minister, expressed some indignation that such a formality should be required in this instance, but as the officer insisted the minister dispatched one of his secretaries for his credentials accrediting him to the government of the United States. When these were produced the surveyor informed the minister that the customs officers must have something to show that he and his suite had been properly admitted to this port. The minister's passport was then sent for, and after a [illegible] had been made the embassy was allowed to land.

A STATEMENT BY CONSUL BEE.

Chinese Consul Bee has made the following statement in regard to the refusal of the customs authorities to allow the minister to land without presenting the necessary papers:

Secretary Bayard sent instructions to the collector of this port to permit the legation to land freely and extend to them every courtesy. Just at the moment his excellency and suite were about to step ashore the surveyor informed me that the collector had not sent an order not to permit the legation to land until his excellency's credentials were sent to the custom house for examination. This was communicated to his excellency, who expressed much surprise at the action of the collector, remarking that his government had instructed him only to present his credentials to the president of the United States, adding that they were packed in his baggage under seal and it would be very inconvenient to get at them at that time, and therefore he preferred to remain on the ship until communication could be had with Washington. Finally, after a delay of an hour and a half, the minister and his suite were permitted to leave the ship.

FROM CHINA AND JAPAN.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—The steamer Gaelic arrived this morning with Hong Kong dates to March 14 and Yokohama to March 23.

The Overland China Mail says that Judge and Mrs. Denny arrived at Shanghai February 25.

[illegible] advices state that reports from the [illegible] districts continue favorable.

Hong Kong advices say that Gen. Wilson and a [illegible] of officers from the United States steamer [illegible] at the request of Li Hung Chang [illegible] line of projected railroad along the [illegible]

The Overland China Mail says that the news of [illegible] persecutions in the United States has [illegible] dangerous anti-foreign feeling in Canton and fears were entertained that the [illegible] would attempt the reprisals mentioned by [illegible] in his dispatch to the Chinese minister at Washington.

Advices from the Philippine islands state that on [illegible] a party of Mohammedan fanatics attacked the mission house at Zamonlaga, on the island of Mindanao, and set fire to it as well as the dwelling house of the priests, the old church, the new church in course of construction and store-houses, the whole being reduced to ashes. The loss is estimated at $18,000. A force was subsequently sent to chastise them, when twelve were killed, and several wounded; the loss on the Spanish side being one captain of infantry and four men wounded and one man killed. The day previous [illegible] burned the village of [illegible] and [illegible]. The losses are very great.

THE PACIFIC MAIL SUBSIDY.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—The Chronicle to-morrow will publish an article showing the method [illegible] overland railroads in the distribution of the so-called Pacific Mail subsidy fund. The article in substance charges that, although, under the last agreement of the overland roads to pay the Pacific Mail $85,000 monthly to cease competition, the railroads shipped an average of $50,000 monthly by Pacific Mail steamers, leaving a balance of $35,000 a month to be paid. The Chronicle says that even this amount the overland roads managed to avoid paying. They collected, as charged through the medium of an advance rate system from all eastern trunk and Iowa lines a certain proportion to be applied to what was termed the steamship fund, and out of which the balance due the Pacific Mail were paid. The Chronicle will publish figures to show that in the division of the excess which remained in this fund, after paying the Pacific Mail's balance, the eastern trunk and Iowa lines were completely ignored, notwithstanding the fact that the latter roads had contributed [illegible] per cent. to the fund.

NEWSPAPER CHANGE.

LOS ANGELES, April 6.—The Times has announced a change of proprietorship. Col. H. H. Boyce retiring, Col. H. G. Otis remains in editorial charge and assumes the general management of the paper. The new members of the company are Albert McFarland and Wm. A. Spaulding. The amount paid for Boyce's half interest was $[illegible],000.

DEATH OF DR. THOMAS WADE.

Dr. Thomas Wade, builder and former owner of the Grand Opera house of this city, which was formerly known as Wade's opera house, died suddenly this morning at his home in Oakland from internal hemorrhage. He was fifty-five years of age and leaves a wife and grown children.

RACES POSTPONED.

Owing to heavy rains to-day and the muddy condition of the track, the blood horse races which were to have taken place to-day were postponed till Saturday.

SUICIDE.

NEVADA CITY, April [illegible]—Peter Conrad, a miner, [illegible] years of age, committed suicide at North Bloomfield last night by cutting his throat with a pocket knife. No cause is assigned.

An Opinion about Bee.

There Shall be no Alps.

When Napoleon talked of invading Italy one of his officers said: "But, sire, remember the Alps." To an ordinary man these would have seemed simply insurmountable, but Napoleon responded eagerly: "There shall be no Alps." So the famous Simplon pass was made. Disease, like a mountain, stands in the way of fame, fortune and honor to many who by Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" might be healed and so the mountain would disappear. It is specific for all blood, chronic lung and liver diseases, such as consumption (which is scrofula of the lungs), pimples, blotches, eruptions, tumors, swellings, fever sores and kindred complaints.

Signs of Restlessness in the South

Mobile Register (Dem.).

It will not do to try public patience too far. If the democratic party wishes or expects to retain the South it must make no distinction between the sections, but extend to all alike liberality and justice, and it must also bear in mind that half of the democracy in the South are followers of Henry Clay.

The Oregonian.

PORTLAND, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 7, 1886.

AN IDEAL TARIFF.

In his last annual [illegible] said:

In reducing the re[illegible] ernment you [illegible] those articles which [illegible] life. The duty on [illegible] was no doubt contin[illegible] the payment of the war [illegible] the release of which fr[illegible] so generally and so [illegible] added all kinds of [illegible] and benevolence unite in favor of relieving the poor of our cities from burdens which are not necessary to the support of our government and tend only to increase the wants of the destitute.

This is the philanthropic philosophy of an ideal, impracticable tariff. Representative Hewitt, who has all his life been engaged in the iron business, says that the iron manufacturer of America needs no protection, so far as a duty on iron ore is concerned. Mr Hewitt believes the raw materials that are essential to the feeding of our national industries should be placed on the free list; he believes that salt, sugar, lumber, iron, coal, and the raw materials that enter into clothing should be taxed as little as possible, and plausibly argues that the farmer and all other workers in the last analysis pays the accumulated tax on all articles that stand for the primitive necessities of the greatest number of people, the things that stand for food, clothing, fuel and shelter. Mr Hewitt plausibly said further that he did not want tin plate taxed to death, because it is really the raw material of the manufacture of tinware. Tinware, he said, employs a vast number of persons and an enormous capital; why then should tin plate, which employs a comparatively small capital and few persons, be heavily protected? The philosophical revenue reformer of the Hewitt type argues that it would not restore the prosperity of the wool or woolen interests of the country to readjust the duties on wool and woolens. The argument is that no tariff was ever yet devised that can beat nature's laws; that the situation of business is frequently controlled by the operation of great natural laws of trade which no tariff can control or readjust. No tariff, argues the revenue reformer, will ever restore to Ohio the wool business wrested from her by Texas and California; no tariff can restore Vermont to her old industrial situation which has been changed by the encroachment of the West. No tariff did this; no tariff can undo it. The violent fluctuations in the price of sheep under the old wool tariff of 1867 show clearly that the sheep breeding interests of New England are not dependent upon the tariff any more than the dairy interests of New England. It makes no difference to Vermont whether Ohio grows part of the wool of the nation or California and Texas grows all of it, and yet the sheep breeders of Vermont shriek over the wool tariff; they follow the old advice given as to how to behave at fires, viz: at all times and under all circumstances, "holler." Thus far we have, we believe, fairly stated the position of the conservative revenue reformers of both parties. Their views are plausible; their spirit is philanthropic, and yet it is absolutely certain as anything can be in this life that no party can prevail in this country on the platform of these revenue reformers. The trouble with the whole business is that the tariff is just what Hancock defined it to be, largely "a local question," meaning by that every state and section of the country has some pet interest to protect. This fact divides the people of both parties on the tariff question. Louisiana wants to protect sugar, Ohio, Vermont and Oregon, wool; Pennsylvania, coal and iron; Michigan and Wisconsin, lumber; New York, salt, and so on. The strain of these united and organized influence of these great industries is too strong to be resisted, and the inevitable result is a compromise which will always disappoint Mr Hewitt, and dissipate his beautiful dream of a philanthropic tariff under which the primitive popular necessaries of life will be placed on the free list. The enthusiasm of the opposition to Mr. Hewitt is kindred to the enthusiasm that even the South feels for "the old flag" whenever it carries with it or implies an appropriation. A protective tariff means to many persons in many states and sections a dividend or local appropriation, and as long as this is so, the tariff lobby at Washington will be too powerful for the philosophical and philanthropic revenue reformer and political economist. Philanthropy to the mass of mankind is not business, any more than "lobsters are affidavits." The following resolution was passed two years ago by a republican state convention at the East:

Resolved, That we approve that system of protection which has developed our national industries, increased the wages of labor, and at the same time reduced the cost of living to consumers, and in particular we desire such a readjustment of the duties on wool and woolens as shall restore the prosperity of these important interests.

This resolution includes an ignorant and shallow intimation that the difference between wages in Europe and America is due to the antagonism of free trade and protection. The argument is as follows: England is free trade; the United States is protection. Wages are higher in America than Europe; the English laboring classes are not as comfortable as our own. The demagogue [illegible] argues that the higher wages and larger comfort of the American laborer [illegible] due to the higher tariff we have maintained since 186[illegible]. The [illegible] of the difference [illegible] the question of tariff [illegible] has a population [illegible] square mile [illegible] than two [illegible] fifty-five [illegible] over [illegible] Europe we have [illegible] find [illegible] [illegible] acres and three [illegible] than 5,000 acres [illegible] 10,000 acres each [illegible] lars per annum [illegible] will near $500,000 [illegible] $150,000. The rentals of twenty-eight [illegible] range from $[illegible] to $1[illegible]

England compares with America as a crowded tenement compares with a workingman's cottage. America is not yet a tenement house crammed full of labor for whom irritation of contact and competition become unbearable; our vast quantity of cheap and fertile lands offers an avenue of escape to the suffocating classes. Suppose Oregon were as thickly settled as Ireland; suppose it were a community, not of small land owners but of many wretched land holders hiring little patches of a few rich land owners. Overpopulation and vicious land tenure explain why labor is ill paid and wretched in Europe, without ascribing to it free trade. France is a nation of small farmers and loses little by emigration; Germany loses largely by emigration, and yet both nations maintain the protective policy. England loses less population than Germany, not because she has free trade, but because there is no compulsory military service or constitutional tyranny. Daniel Webster hit it when he said that the question of protection vs free trade was a question of practical expediency and emergency rather than of ironclad economic theory. Macaulay said that when we became as thickly settled as England we would be as miserable as Europe. He forgot that we shall always be better off than Europe, because as a nation of small land-holders and petty property-holders, we shall be more comfortable and happy than the working many of England, ruled and robbed by the land holding few. Our radical difference of political polity is our security—not so superficial a thing as a difference of revenue system.

ADULTERATION OF FOOD.

A few days back we had occasion to say that in attempting to secure a national law prohibiting the manufacture or sale of imitation butter the dairymen of the country were going too far. In another sense they are not going far enough. They ought to ask for a national law to prohibit deception in the sale not only of dairy products but of foods of every kind. To prohibit the adulteration or counterfeiting of food is not practicable, for some articles are improved by an admixture of foreign substances while many counterfeits are not in the least harmful. A manufacturer has the same right to make a mixture of mustard and flour, or an imitation butter, that he has to make flour or any other article; but he ought to be compelled to sell them for what they really are. In England there is an excellent law respecting this important matter. Every package of food exposed or offered for sale must have a true analysis of its contents stated plainly on its label. Thus, for example, every package of Coleman's mustard sold in England bears the following brand: "This package contains sixteen ounces, twelve of pure Durham mustard, two of arrowroot and two of farina." This puts the thing on its merits. A mixture of mustard, arrowroot and farina is not unwholesome and there can be no objection to its sale as such. There is no valid objection to any adulteration if there be no deception in its sale. There may be persons who prefer adulterated or even counterfeit goods to genuine goods at a greater cost. The common adulterations are for the greater part harmless, and eliminate the fraud common in their sale, there can be no just cause for prohibiting them.

Under our present system, or lack of system, an honest manufacturer of a food which may be adulterated successfully is at great disadvantage, for he must sell a dear pure product in competition with a cheaper bogus product. A genuine article is thus soon beaten out of the market, so it may be said that we have no genuine manufactured goods of the kinds which can be adulterated. Even English goods, sold as they are in the country of their manufacture upon their real merits, come here with bogus brands. Coleman's mustard, referred to above, when shipped to America, is given another label and appears in our market as "pure Durham mustard," and so with all other English goods of this class. We permit imposition and they are not slow to impose on us. Effort has been made in several states to enforce laws against adulterations, but it has always failed, and from natural business causes. For example, Illinois attempted to prevent adulterations by a severe law, but it was found that under this law Chicago merchants could not compete for the business of Wisconsin, Michigan and other states with merchants of other cities who were not under prohibition and who made use of all the advantages of adulteration. It requires but little reflection to see that this experience will be repeated wherever such a law is enforced in a general business community. A state, in taking this prohibition upon itself without co-operation on the part of the states with which it is in business association, only injures its own citizens. No such law can be enforced, of course, and, as in Illinois, it will soon become a dead letter. The only way to deal with the evil practically is to deal with it nationally, by a regulation affecting all the states alike. If those who are appealing to congress in behalf of the dairy interest would modify their demands, and make them conform to the English regulations and include all manufactured foods they would do the country a great service. In England the law preventing deception is enforced mainly by a close system of inspection; [illegible] the law against [illegible] is enforced.

AN INCIDENT OF HISTORY.

In 185[illegible] the Chinese government of Canton [illegible] a small boat, known as the Arrow, and took off twelve men in charge of piracy. The Arrow was not an English vessel, but only a Chinese vessel flying an English flag which it had obtained by false pretenses. Nevertheless the English plenipotentiary at Hong Kong, Sir John Bowring, demanded the surrender of the men and an apology for their arrest, under pain of naval bombardment. The Chinese governor sent back the men but declined to apologize, for he maintained that the Arrow was really a Chinese vessel with no more right to fly the English flag than any other pirate that steals or obtains by false pretenses a flag as a decoy and cover for lawless work. Incensed by the refusal to apologize, Sir John Bowring at once bombarded Canton for twenty days. When the news reached England Richard Cobden brought forward a motion of censure for the violent means resorted to at Canton in the late affair of the Arrow. Mr Cobden was supported by Gladstone, Disraeli, Lord Lytton, Lord John Russell, the present Marquis of Salisbury, Lord Selborne, Sidney Herbert, Lord Grey, and the late Lord Houghton. Cobden in the debate described the Chinese empire as a state "which had its system of logic before the time of Aristotle and its code of morals before that of Socrates." The vote of censure was carried by [illegible] Lord Palmerston [illegible] the country [illegible] the same method [illegible] appeal [illegible] practiced by American demagogues when they [illegible] the right of wrong [illegible] under foot the legal rights of an inferior race [illegible] Palmerston in his address [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] China had any rights under the treaty that an [illegible] nation was bound to respect [illegible] Gibson, [illegible] [illegible] English statesman [illegible] [illegible] prejudice and [illegible] [illegible] is conceded by all unprejudiced Englishmen to be one of the blackest and most shameful pages in their history. No English statesman of to-day pretends to defend it; it was a signal illustration of the success of an appeal taken from the sober [illegible] England assembled in parliament to the mob outside drunk with race prejudice and pride. In America as in England, Philip drunk has more than once put Philip sober to the wall, but in the long run time makes all things even and Philip drunk goes to the ditch, while [illegible] Philip sober sits on the throne.

MISSTATEMENTS CORRECTED.

To the Editor of The Oregonian:

It seems a pity that an influential and generally well informed paper such as The Oregonian should take over unreservedly matter of [illegible] what personal nature from a publication so often incorrect in its would be facts as the Roseburg [illegible] In the extract to which I now take exception it is stated that Douglas county incurred a large bill of expenses on my behalf and [illegible] Fitzhugh is credited with having relieved the county of this expense by writing to my relatives in England, and with having got me provided for in the future. The county was never in any danger of having to provide for me, as some friends near Roseburg kindly went security for all expenditure as soon as they heard that an attempt was being made to extract money from the public purse for my maintenance, an attempt which was in itself grossly unfair to me and made without my knowledge. Shortly after I was rescued a gentleman from Camas valley came to see me and kindly offered me shelter in his house as being more comfortable than the log hut to which my friends had been able to carry me preparatory to removing me to the house where I had been living before the mishap. I accepted this invitation gladly. In my then weak and crippled state I was hardly in condition to enter into business questions, but the brother of the man in whose house I was staying immediately

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

BASEBALL TOPICS.—The managers of The Oaks, East Portland, are putting the park in trim for the coming baseball season, which promises to be lively. The diamond has been leveled and the outfield relieved of lumps. A fence has been erected along the east boundary of the grounds and seats erected back of the third base, and there will be a comfortable table with an awning for reporters. Already the Portlands have selected their nine, which is as follows: Catchers, Timmons and Brandt; pitchers, [illegible] and Daley; short stop, [illegible]; first base, [illegible]; second, Fairbairn; third, [illegible]; left field, Brown; center, [illegible]. The only new players are [illegible] and Fairbairn. [illegible] in a professional club [illegible]. A few days ago in a practice game against [illegible] the [illegible] and [illegible] Fairbairn was [illegible] for the Seattle [illegible]. [illegible] made for them by Spalding of Chicago. They are white with brown trimmings and [illegible]. Across the bosom of the shirt is [illegible] Portland. The Stars have [illegible] of Vancouver [illegible] pitcher and [illegible] latter leaves San Francisco by [illegible]. He will be [illegible] man who caught [illegible] in the [illegible]. With this battery it will not be [illegible] to hold the Portlands level. The Willamettes [illegible] do not propose to take a back [illegible] this season and will enter the lists with the Portlands and Stars. The best players in [illegible] Portland compose the nine and they are practicing hard. It is likely that the first match of the season will be played about May 2. Interest in the national game is decidedly on the increase and [illegible] look for some good sport early in the season.

OLD COMSTOCK HEARD FROM.—The purser of the steamer Manzanillo furnishes more information about Old Comstock. He got on board the Manzanillo at Westport last Friday evening and came to this city Saturday. On the trip he showed the specimens said to have been obtained in the Nehalem country and stated he had discovered rich mines there. He asked about freight charges on furnace and smelting material, saying he would go to San Francisco Sunday night to buy mining machinery and talked of millions with as much abandon as an ordinary person would of cents. Upon his representation the purser agreed to pay $5 for a location and a passenger took the same amount of stock. Two checks for $5 each were signed by the People's transportation company, drawn on the First National bank and made payable to the secretary of state of Oregon were given him and accepted without demur. They were made so payable because the purser was not altogether satisfied, and because Comstock had said the sum was necessary for location filing with the secretary. Yesterday a merchant presented the first check to the purser, saying it was no good. The second check was taken by John Lovens for $4.50 from a party who afterward said it cost him [illegible] cents less. Both were seemingly indorsed by the secretary of state although the initials of Secretary Earhart's name were incorrect. This may in part explain Comstock's possession of so many checks. He is now wanted.

REAL ESTATE SALE.—Van B. DeLashmutt yesterday purchased a three quarter interest in a quarter block at the southeast corner of First and Madison, on which the Tivoli theater stands, paying therefore $15,000. This is at the rate of $20,000 for the quarter block, less than one third what the property at the corner of Third and Washington streets sold for a few days since. The other quarter of the 100 feet square is owned by E. W. Bingham. It is generally considered that Mr. DeLashmutt made a very good bargain. The property in question has quite a history. It was owned by a man named Scott, who died several years ago. The administrator of the property mortgaged it to the Bank of British Columbia and used the money in improving the property. The bank finally foreclosed the mortgage and bid in the property at the sale. After the heirs came of age they brought suit in the United States court to recover the property. Judge Deady held that an administrator could not improve property [illegible] of the hands of the heirs and overruled the decision of the state court and gave the property back to Scott's children. These are the facts as related by a gentleman who was familiar with them at the time and who believes that they are in the main correct, as he has stated them.

PUZZLING HIEROGLYPHICS.—A fellow who gave the name of Charles Duggan was arrested by policeman James last evening at the corner of Third and Stark streets for chalking hieroglyphics on the sidewalks. He had been at it for hours, and had marked at many street corners a right angled triangle with the figure 4 on the outside and a [illegible] opposite on the inside, below which were the characters 8x00x, and under the base of the triangle the figures 4870. Duggan said the combination of symbols was a call for a meeting of the Knights of Labor on the 4th month and 8th day at 8 o'clock, and the other figures meant that they were to move to a new hall. The fellow is evidently weak mentally if not insane. He looked like a man out of his mind and the perspiration was pouring off him when he was arrested. He was probably making a fac simile of the score which is chalked up against him behind the door of some down town saloon. The people who spent their time trying to fathom the meaning of the handwriting on the sidewalk had as well have worried their brains over the tracks in a chicken corral. This Duggan is probably the same genius who posted hieroglyphic notices around East Portland.

ARRESTED FOR THEFT.—Last Saturday Daniel Lynch came to this city from near Oswego to have a time. This consisted in his going to Zeller's saloon on Front street and getting full. He claims that when he entered the saloon he had seventy odd dollars on his person, and on leaving was followed by some person. The next he remembered was finding himself in the city jail minus his money. Lynch had a warrant for larceny issued in the name of John Doe, and yesterday he pointed out Ignatz Frey, an old German, as the man who robbed him. Acting on this information Frey was arrested, and when the police court convened yesterday he was arraigned on a charge of larceny. He pleaded not guilty and asked for an examination, which was set for to-day. Frey is well known to numbers of the officers, and is looked upon by them as a harmless old fellow. A policeman remarked yesterday, "Why, Ignatz hasn't had more than a dollar at any one time within the last five years." Frey denies all knowledge of the affair.

MISSING WIFE AND CHILDREN.—John Lawrence, a middle aged man employed as an engine wiper at the O. R. & N. Co.'s round house in Albina, came to police headquarters late last night wanting to know whether he could secure the arrest of his wife, who he said had run away. His story is that when he went home to supper he found the house deserted and none of the neighbors could give him any information as to the whereabouts of his wife and his three children, aged respectively [illegible] 16 and [illegible] years. He feels certain that they took the afternoon train for his old home in Parsons, Kansas, though he has no knowledge that they have ever left town. Her parents live in Parsons. He says that his wife took between $400 and $500 which he had in the house, the sewing machine and nearly all the bedding. [illegible] she [illegible] for deserting him is that she says [illegible] woman [illegible] officers [illegible] telegraph [illegible] officer at [illegible] to hold her until they hear [illegible] from him again.

THE CANADIAN PACIFIC AND THE TRANS[illegible] [illegible]—The Seattle P.-I. [illegible] of the dispatch referring to the proposed [illegible] of the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] of the opening of the Canadian Pacific steamship line and its policy with regard to the coast [illegible] is decidedly [illegible]. The only thing [illegible] of the intentions of the new [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] competing [illegible] [illegible] the Washington territory [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] saying that [illegible] competing for Canadian traffic [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] company.

SURVEY [illegible].—Yesterday afternoon [illegible] water [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Col. W. Smith [illegible] made a report of the survey of a pipe line from the [illegible] river to the east bank of the Willamette. This was about the same line as that made for Cunningham and others. Col. Smith pronounced it impracticable owing to the difficulty of getting the line of pipe around the bluffs bordering the Sandy river. He declared it unsafe to carry the pipe for the distance of nearly a mile. He believed that the difficulty might be overcome by taking a starting point higher up on Bull Run and carrying the pipe over the top of the bluff, but that a new survey would be necessary. The committee instructed him to make such new survey, and also to run a line from Eagle creek, one of the tributaries of the Clackamas to Portland. It is likely that Col. Smith will begin the work before the end of this week with about the same party who made the first survey.

STREET SWEEPING NUISANCE.—Somehow or other the sweeping of First and Front streets can not be done satisfactorily with the revolving machine hauled by horses. The work was attempted some time since, and the inconsiderate driver began operations about the time people were returning from the theaters. This was intolerable. Then it was held back till after midnight, but still proved a nuisance. The machine raises an incredibly thick cloud of dust and goods in many stores which had the front transoms partly opened were covered with dust thick enough to be measured. One passing by of the sweeper would not be so bad, but it makes about five round trips before a street is cleaned, each succeeding trip raising more dust than the previous one. The only way that suggests itself to do away with the nuisance is to sprinkle before sweeping or [illegible] the brush with a cylinder or else not sweep at [illegible].

MOVING UP TOWN.—L. A. Brown and [illegible] Bates, ship chandlers, have leased from Walter [illegible] the old Hamilton property at the northwest corner of First and [illegible] streets, and they together with the business of the Ross [illegible] and Frost, will occupy it about the [illegible] of this month. With Brown & McCabe [illegible] for [illegible] in the new location, the shipping [illegible] will have moved [illegible] block [illegible] and the skippers will congregate so much nearer to the center of the city.

SLAPPED HIS DAUGHTER.—Yesterday in the Madison precinct justice court Mrs. F. G. Murphy made a complaint of assault and battery against her father, G. W. Taylor. The parties live in the vicinity of East Park and Washington streets. Mrs. Murphy was gathering cherry blossoms. She and her father had a misunderstanding and she asserts that he slapped her. Mr. Taylor, on learning that a warrant was out for him, gave himself up and was released on his own recognizance to appear to-day for trial.

FISHERIES NEAR PORTLAND.—Salmon fisheries have been established all along the river between Sellwood and Oregon City, and also in the Clackamas, and the principal supply of salmon for the markets in this city has for some time been derived from these places. The catch has fallen off to almost nothing within the last few days and the fishermen are in consequence praying for rain which will bring up more fish. The salmon caught in the Willamette are principally steelheads, but in the Clackamas a smaller [illegible] larger mesh is used, and some Chinook are caught. The steelheads [illegible] through [illegible] fisher [illegible] steelheads in that stream any longer and so have transferred their [illegible] to the Columbia to fish for the Chinook.

INTIMIDATING A FORMER TENANT.—A Chinaman who calls himself Thomas Louis and wears short hair and dresses American fashion, yesterday had Sing Hong arrested in Justice Davis's court. Louis keeps a Chinese and English school on Second street between Washington and Alder. He formerly had a room in the second story, and moved to the upper floor. On this [illegible] Sing Hong, who controlled the former premises occupied by Thomas Louis, intimidated his pupils and prevented their attending. It is for this he was arrested. The case will be called for trial this morning at 10 o'clock. The man is [illegible] the scholars from going to school was in threatening to sling them with iron bars should they attempt to go upstairs from the street.

CANOE CLUB PICTURES.—The members of the Canoe club have had themselves photographed in a group, or rather two groups, one on land and the other afloat. And they are pretentious photographs—larger than half a page of THE OREGONIAN. In one scene the boys are on the sand bar east of Ross Island, leaning lazily near their canoes, which are hauled out on the bank, the city of Portland with its line of docks and tall buildings making a splendid background. In the other scene the [illegible] are in the river in double lines, the occupants paddle in hand ready for a stroke. Palmer has his fine Irish setter in his canoe, and the handsome dog wears his master's cap, which the picture [illegible], which adds to the general effect.

ASSAULTED A TAILOR.—Some weeks ago Louis Austrige ordered a suit of clothes from D. J. Hughes, the tailor, and paid a deposit on the same, according to his statement, of $[illegible] and in keeping with Hughes's story but $[illegible]. Austrige called for the suit of clothing several times and was told it was not ready. Monday he appeared at Hughes's place in company with Tom Brodigan. Hughes asserts Mr. Austrige and Brodigan beat, choked and otherwise assaulted him without cause. This they deny. Brodigan and Austrige were arrested on a warrant from the police court for assault and battery. Yesterday their cases were called and continued for trial. The accused are longshoremen and bear the reputation of law abiding citizens.

ANOTHER BRICK BLOCK.—Architect Krumbein has prepared plans for a three story brick block to be erected by James McKay of Marion county at the southeast corner of Third and Stark, directly opposite the cathedral. The property has a frontage of 100 feet on Stark and 50 feet on Third street. The design is to have five stores on Stark street with entrance to the upper floors from Stark and from Third. It is to have an iron front and iron trimmings. Bids will be opened about the 15th inst. and if the figures are satisfactory work will be commenced at once. Building material was never so cheap in this city as now, and the activity in building at this time shows that capitalists are taking advantage of it.

INDICTMENTS.—Yesterday indictments were returned by the grand jury as follows: William Gilliam who cut policeman J. W. Robinson on the hand with a knife, February 21. At the time of the assault Robinson had Gilliam under arrest. Ah Weng, who stole three pair of hinges from Dayton & Hall's hardware store on the evening of January 11. Ah Cong, who made a very sudden disappearance on the night of March [illegible] from Arthur R[illegible]'s clothing establishment with an umbrella which he did not own; and Wm. Ryan, who made off with a [illegible] from Julius Levi's store on First street, near Pine, March 11. Not a true bill was returned in the case of Rosie Miller, accused of perjury.

[illegible] [illegible].—Sunday night Charles Lewis, Charles Gebhart, and Carl Ranke had a general row in a house at Ninth and [illegible] streets, resulting in Ranke getting his face pretty well scratched. His statement of the affair is that the two men entered his room and thumped him without cause. Gebhart and Lewis were arrested for assault and battery and their cases called in the police court at one o'clock yesterday. Lewis stood trial and was adjudged guilty and fined ten dollars. Gebhart pleaded guilty and was fined a like amount. Both of the defendants claimed Ranke made the first assault, but neither of them introduced evidence to substantiate their statement.

NOT PROVEN.—Constable Springer of Kalama's justice court yesterday placed John Hoover under arrest just as he was about to leave on the Kalama train. Chris Kimmell, barkeeper in the Park saloon at Washington and [illegible] streets, complained that he lost a dress coat last Sunday night. He suspects that Hoover took it, as he left the saloon at about the same time the coat did. Hoover had an examination at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and the case was dismissed with a reprimand, on his agreeing to leave town. Constable Springer says Hoover has a mania for stealing clothes, and but recently served out a sentence of thirty days for larceny.

EAGLE CREEK AS A WATER SUPPLY.—The water commission might easily satisfy themselves as to the impracticability of obtaining a supply of water for this city from Eagle creek without going to the trouble and expense of sending an engineer and surveying party out there. The writer in company with several well known citizens of Portland, one of them an ex-mayor, has fished down Eagle creek for miles to its junction with the Clackamas and is confident that there is not enough water in the creek during the summer to supply this city. In the summer months the stream is small and the water warm.

LARGE IMMIGRATION BY STEAMER.—The [illegible] [illegible] brought up [illegible] passengers [illegible] in the steerage—the largest number by any one steamer since July 1884. Some of the passengers were settlers from California while most of them were from the East, coming the round about way for two reasons: first to save a little something in railroad fare and second to take a look at the Golden state before coming here. About half of the newcomers left yesterday for Eastern Oregon and Washington and an extra car was required for their accommodation on the Atlantic express.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.—Last Sunday morning the little daughter of Herman Flintam, aged 14 years, was playing with her little brother aged [illegible], who had an old pistol of the pepper box pattern, using a cartridge [illegible] caliber, when the pistol was accidentally discharged, the bullet striking the little girl at the outer angle of the orbit of the left eye. Dr. [illegible] extracted a portion of the ball which ranged downward, but the remainder has not yet been found. It is impossible to tell how the case will terminate. The pistol had been about for a good while and was supposed to be empty.—Astorian.

CATHEDRAL CONCERT.—The sacred concert to be given under the management of Mr. [illegible] [illegible] next Monday evening at the cathedral will be one of [illegible] excellence [illegible] [illegible]. The magnificent new organ recently put up in the cathedral will then be heard to the best advantage. Miss Emma Walters, Miss Dalton, Miss Laird and Messrs. [illegible] Coursen, R. W. Hoyt, J. K. Murray, the favorite basso of the Casino Opera company, and a number of well known amateurs will assist the cathedral choir on the occasion.

MARRIED MAN WANTS PREFERENCE.—Martin Conavan will present a petition to the council asking to be given work in the street cleaning department on the score that he is a man of family, and as such should have preference over single men. The petition is quite numerously signed by persons who think that he should be given work in accordance with his petition. If the petition is granted it will be looked upon as a sort of premium on matrimony, and married men will be applying for all the positions held by bachelors from president down.

MICE [illegible].—The [illegible] of [illegible] county has been [illegible] in Kansas. The [illegible] is not [illegible] farming [illegible] bring [illegible] [illegible] the objective point of trade [illegible] [illegible] community [illegible] sized boost towards prosperity.

HIGH SCHOOL BASE BALL CLUB.—The ball players of the High school have organized for the season with the following officers: President and business manager, Ivan Humason; secretary and treasurer, Hunter Wells; captain, William Young. Their principal object is to attain such proficiency as to be able to defeat the Bishop Scott Grammar school nine. Then and not till then, will their ambition be satisfied.

RIVER FRONT SOLD.—Last week C. H. Lewis bought from Smith Bros. & Watson the old foundry property at Albina, which includes 400 feet of river front. The purchase price has not been made public, but it is understood that the sellers got a handsome profit over their purchase price. Mr. Lewis will probably erect a wharf and warehouse on the property.

DAILY TRIPS.—The steamer Traveler will commence making daily trips to La Camas on Monday next, leaving Columbia River paper company's dock, foot of Alder street, every afternoon.

CONCERNING THE CHANGING OF NAMES

PORTLAND, April [illegible]

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

What must a person do in order to have his name changed by the legislature? What reason is necessary?

Is it illegal to drop part of one's name or to change it, or is it only bad taste?

CONSTANT READER.

The county court, not the legislature, has the power to change the names of persons. Any reasonable excuse is enough. Not long ago a man named Smith had his name changed because he did not like it.

Not illegal to hurt. One man came to Oregon, changed his name, and afterwards got to the U. S. senate. He bigamously substituted one wife for another while passing under his assumed name and wanted to do the same again, yet his supporters thought all the more of him for it. They have refused even to admit that it was bad taste. "Constant Reader," who appears to be a new comer, will therefore see that great latitude is permissible on these subjects here.

Fifty cents spent on a bottle of St. Jacobs Oil, the great cure for rheumatism, and twenty-five cents for a bottle of the new discovery—Red Star Cough Cure—which removes throat and lung troubles, is as good an investment as a life insurance policy.

A PHYSICIAN IN TROUBLE.

Dr. Gelsmardo in Jail Charged with Outrageous Assault on a Patient

Dr. A. Gelsmardo was arrested yesterday on complaint of Mrs. Emily Smith who charges him with outrageous assault. His case was continued in the police court till this afternoon and his bail fixed at $[illegible],000, in default of which he occupied a room in the city jail last night.

The charge against the doctor is a serious one, but there is a rather ludicrous incident connected with the alleged crime, although the party principally interested in it fails to see anything funny in it.

On Monday Mrs. Smith visited Gelsmardo to be treated for some ailment. An anesthetic was administered and while she was under the effects, she claims she was criminally assaulted. When she went home she told her husband how she had been treated, and he, justly enraged, started out to seek redress. Friends advised him to keep the matter quiet and to administer to the doctor a good sound thrashing. So a plan was laid by means of a letter to decoy Gelsmardo to a certain place in pretense that a sick lady wished to consult him. Now Gelsmardo has a private secretary named Dodd, and either suspecting a trap or being [illegible] sent this agent to wait upon the lady in his stead. As Dodd approached his destination he was accosted by Smith, who asked him if he were Dr. Gelsmardo. Dodd, who it appears must have intended to personate his employer, replied that he was. Whereupon he was set upon in regular Dempsey style and knocked about like a shuttlecock and beaten to a jelly. Oh, he was just everlastingly thumped, and now has a "head" on him such as has seldom been seen in this country. Smith soon after found out that he had whipped the wrong man, which caused him great regret, but he did not regret his mistake half so much as did Dodd. Smith paid a fine for his mistake, and then, despairing of getting the real offender in his clutches, yesterday determined to have him dealt with by law.

THE COURTS.

In the police court yesterday the case of Deputy Sheriff T. C. Powell, charged with grand larceny, was called. Mr. Powell pleaded not guilty, and after some little argument on the part of counsel the case was set for trial at 8 o'clock in the evening. When the court convened at this hour Mr. Hume, the attorney, submitted affidavits from the members of the Casino opera company, including Miss Franc D. Hall, Bebe Vining, A. F. W. McCollin and others that were unable to appear for the reason of their professional duties at the opera. On this showing the case was put over until 1 o'clock to-day. In justice to Mr. Powell it might be mentioned that he was merely acting in the performance of his duties and his arrest is merely technical.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.

W. A. Vinton was arraigned yesterday on a charge of selling liquor to Indians. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary. He was taken to Salem last evening by Deputy U. S. Marshal Morgan. His friends in Fulton look will look in vain for him till the roses bloom again.

DIVORCE CASES.

Judge Stearns yesterday dismissed the suit for divorce brought by Agnes L. May against W. F. May, for the reason that service could not be had on the defendant, and as defendant is in the state of Oregon service could not be made by the publication of summons. They were married December 21, 18[illegible] in London. The action for divorce was brought on the ground of habitual drunkenness on the part of the defendant, cruel treatment and desertion.

The divorce case of Louisa Miller vs. Thomas Miller has been referred to N. D. Simon as referee to take testimony and report. The suit was brought March [illegible] last. Plaintiff alleges defendant treated her in a cruel manner and falsely accused her of committing adultery.

THE CITY'S REPLY TO DISCHARGED POLICEMEN.

A week ago J. R. F. Selby, a former policeman, brought suit against the city of Portland in behalf of himself, James H. Lappeus, P. P. Luther and others to recover $1,400 back salaries. The complaint sets up that these officers were removed without cause and are therefore still in the service of the city. Yesterday the city attorney filed the following motion in the office of the county clerk: "J. R. F. Selby, plaintiff, vs. The City of Portland, defendant. Now comes the above named defendant and moves the court to have plaintiff make his complaint more definite and certain in the following particulars:

First—That he be required to allege whether he and his assignees performed the duties of the several offices claimed by them after the defendant ceased to pay them salaries.

Second—That plaintiff be required to show why said duties have not been performed since the defendant ceased to pay them.

Third—That said plaintiff be required to elect whether he claims the right to recover on this action by reason of the performance of the duties of said several offices by himself and his assignors or by reason of some excuse for non performance thereof.

A. H. TANNER."

SALEM NOTES

SALEM, April [illegible]

[illegible] Hirsch of Pomeroy, W. T., is in this city on a brief visit among relatives and friends.

Henry L. Huffman and Miss Maggie M. Ryan were married in North Salem on Sunday last, Justice O'Donald officiating.

B. Coffey, U. S. Indian agent at the Umatilla reservation, is in this city on a flying visit. His wife will probably accompany him on his return to the reservation.

Donald McKay, the well known contractor of Portland, arrived here this morning with the view of putting in a bid for work to be done on the state capitol building.

The democratic county primaries were held in this county yesterday. Considerable interest being manifested in the contest. Full delegations were elected to attend the county convention.

[illegible], accompanied by his [illegible], Capt. T. C. Smith of this city, made the regular quarterly inspection of Company B [illegible] regiment, third brigade, in this city last evening.

Salem's new spiritualistic journal, The World's [illegible] Light, has made its appearance. Typographically speaking, it presents a very creditable appearance. Of the doctrines promulgated readers must speak for themselves.

Dr. Carpenter will remove with his family on to [illegible] [illegible] this city upon the expiration of his term as superintendent of the insane asylum. It will be necessary to make a complete inventory of the institution before Dr. [illegible] assumes his official duties.

Gov. Moody has recently made the following notarial appointments: [illegible]; D. R. Mur[illegible] by Frank A. Thompson and [illegible] of Fort [illegible] and James P. Austin, [illegible]; [illegible] Kirkland, Hilton, W. T. Sammis, Alter [illegible] S. M. Alter, The Dalles.

The trustees of the Baker City and [illegible] M. E. church property have filed articles of incorporation in the office of the secretary of state with P. [illegible] A. Faith, Frank Moore, John H. [illegible], [illegible] Losnot and Wm. Brown as incorporators. Capital stock $[illegible]000.

The republican county primaries were held here on Saturday last, delegates being elected to attend the county convention to be held [illegible]. There was but one ticket out in the majority of the precincts. [illegible] is reported to be between Messrs. Gilbert and Wright as candidates for state treasurer.

Judge and Mrs. B. F. Bonham of this city arrived at Calcutta, India, on the 11th of February, six weeks and four days out from San Francisco. Mrs. Bonham in a sprightly and interesting letter to the Statesman of this city gives her many friends here and elsewhere an interesting account of their voyage.

The Owl baseball club of this city was organized on Saturday evening last with Jay Phillips as captain and the following well known ball tossers as members: Doug Minto, [illegible] Jordan, A. T. M[illegible], [illegible] Ernest Patton, [illegible], [illegible] Eugene Willis, Terry Wallis, Jay C. Smith, [illegible] and Sam Todd.

The republicans of East Salem have nominated T. A. Johnson for justice of the peace and A. M. [illegible] constable, and the democracy [illegible] [illegible] justice of the peace, and Charles [illegible] constable. In South Salem [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] for justice of the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible].

Another [illegible] drowning occurred here last evening, in which Robert Lee, [illegible] of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Wallace, was the victim. He left his home near the state house about [illegible] o'clock P. M. with the avowed purpose of fishing in Mill creek, and not returning when expected search was instituted. John H. Albert and son, with the aid of a lantern, found the little fellow's fishing pole in the stream near the old dry house back of the university about 9:30 o'clock, which being removed brought to the surface the body of little Lee, his fishing hook having caught in his clothes in some manner. The remains were at once removed to the residence of J. H. Albert and thence to the home of his parents. The bank where the accident no doubt occurred was very steep, and slipping in and being unable to swim he sank to the bottom, and had probably been dead some three hours when found. He was a bright intelligent lad of about 11 years of age. His parents are of course well nigh distracted over the affair, and the sympathy of the entire community is with them in their sudden bereavement.

RESOLUTIONS OF CONDOLENCE

HALL OF POLE LODGE, March [illegible]

WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God to remove from our midst our brother, Samuel A. Moreland, therefore, be it

Resolved, That in the sudden death of Brother S. A. Moreland this lodge has lost one of its founders, one whose exhortations and precepts as its master, were always full of the broadest principles of humanity and brotherly love, and whose labors as its financial secretary were full and complete with good to the brotherhood of which he was such an exemplary member.

Resolved, That in the loss of Brother Moreland our lodge has lost a member whose friendship was a blessing and a heaven born truth, that our grief seems selfish beside of his bereaved family who called him husband and father, and whose loss is irreparable.

Resolved, That in honor of his long services in this lodge the financier's desk be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the widow of our deceased brother and published in THE DAILY OREGONIAN.

IMMIGRATION.

Annual Report of the State Commissioners

A Detailed Statement of the Work of the Board for its First Year.

PORTLAND, April [illegible], 1886.

To His Excellency, Z. F. Moody, Governor, Salem, Oregon. Dear Sir:—We have the honor to submit the following report, showing the transactions of the Oregon state board of immigration commissioners for the fiscal year ending April 1, 1886:

In the collection and arrangement of the data which is to show the work of the state board of immigration for the first year of its organization under legislative enactment, it will be proper enough to refer briefly to some of the conditions and circumstances under which this labor was commenced. While it is true that the Oregon board of immigration organized and operated under the management of the Portland board of trade was merged into the Oregon state board of immigration, and that the latter came into gift possession of all the working appurtenances and material, as well as the benefits of the four months' labor and experience of the former, yet the work of the state board, assuming as it did at once a wider sphere, was inaugurated and carried on with no inconsiderable difficulty. Under the old board Washington territory was an included province of labor, and there was a laxity of ruling and regulation relative to many features connected with the work which was not practicable under state control and management. It became necessary to abandon these plans and this with the adoption of new rules and regulations in order to meet the requirements of the bill under which the board was organized, and the needs of the wide scope of labor entered upon made a radical change, and it was not surprising that misunderstanding or misapprehending the matter, people in various quarters and in vocations of a somewhat kindred nature should unfairly and unjustly censure and criticize the commissioners. Satisfied that when once these operations of the board were fully realized they would be appreciated and meet the commendation of all interested citizens, these criticisms were not replied to, but the fullest opportunity was given to every one, whether making complaints or not, to investigate the working of the board. As these plans and their consequent good results have become matters of general public information these hindrances have dissipated, and now at the close of the first year, it may be said, that there is an almost universal good will and a sentiment of helpfulness toward the state board on the part of the press and the people. To the commissioners who have given, gratuitously, valuable time and attention to the duties devolving upon them, it is gratifying that this statement can be made. A public sentiment of this nature guarantees the aid of encouraging words and sympathy with the work of the board for the future.

In some measure these were untoward conditions and while they may not have obstructed the labors of the board nor changed a single mapped out plan, they did not abet the work and were the source of much annoyance. They led unthinking people to expect too much of the organization. To many such people the organization of the board and the expenditure of the appropriation funds necessary to a prosecution of the work, meant a tide of immigration that would guarantee the sale during 1885, of every farm and tract of land offered, and aside from that bring people enough to fill all the unoccupied houses in the cities and towns in the state. Because this was not fully accomplished there has been the disposition to scold and charge inefficiency. When we come to make a comparison between the work of this board and that of the California Immigration association for the years of 1884 and 1885, the unreasonableness of such a charge is very plain. In order that this comparison may be the more readily made a transcript from the records of the California association is herewith presented:

For the twelve months ending November 30, 1884, the register showed 4048 persons had visited the rooms in San Francisco; these represented 9487 persons all told. For 1883 the register was 3,248, or [illegible]83 persons. For 1884 the disbursements were $11,086.14. That association distributed 233,359 copies of printed information. During the year [illegible] letters were received. Four men were employed in the office and two for outside work, six in all.

For the year ending November 30, 1885, the record is as follows: Visiting immigrants, 3011; total number of persons represented, 7131. For the year the disbursements were $11,222.15, an increase over the preceding year of $173.65, and falling off of visitors of [illegible].

Elsewhere in this report statistics are given which show the work of the state board in the comparison. It will be seen that a little less than $5000 has been used, and that the office and outdoor duties have been performed by one employe and a boy assistant. The results as given herewith are certainly largely in favor of this state and in disproof of the charges and complaints herein referred to.

In the statements and statistics of this report, a collection of data which so far as possible is accurate and trustworthy in every particular, there is every evidence that the immigration work of the board has so far been of almost inestimable advantage and benefit to the state. This evidence and proof is enhanced when it is remembered that these benefits are ultimate as well as immediate, that while through the agency of the board hundreds and thousands of people come here to spend money accumulated elsewhere, to live in our towns and cities, to purchase farm homes, and in that way not only add to the agricultural resources and wealth of the state but also to its commercial activities and aggregate, the descendants of these immigrants of '85 and '86 will become in their labor and wealth the ultimate benefits of this work. It would be somewhat difficult to understand how any reasonable man could entertain doubts of the beneficent results of this labor in behalf of immigration.

The bill to provide for the appointment of a board of immigration commissioners and the appropriation of moneys for immigration purposes, became a law during the regular session convened January, 1885. Immediately following the adjournment of the legislature Gov. Moody appointed the following named as commissioners of immigration: Chas. H. Dodd and H. W. Corbett of Portland, Wm. M. Ladue of Salem, H. B. Miller of Grant's Pass and J. B. Cox of Pendleton.

After the adjournment of the special session of [illegible] Mr. Cox resigned as commissioner from Eastern Oregon and Mr. Samuel Rothschild was appointed to fill the vacancy. The Oregon state board of immigration commissioners held their first meeting April [illegible], 1885, at which the organization took place, Mr. Chas. H. Dodd being elected president and an executive committee appointed consisting of Messrs. Dodd, Corbett and Ladue. At a later meeting Mr. Ladue was elected vice president. C. B. Carlisle was elected secretary. Accepting from the Oregon immigration board whatever of printed matter and office appurtenances it had on hand, forming rules and regulations for its government, the state board entered upon its work.

The organization of the board and the adoption of rules and regulations for its government contemplated:

First—The preparation of information in a printed form that would convey the true conditions relative to climate, soil productions and the opportunities and inducements offering for the investment of capital, large or small.

Second—The judicious distribution of this information both in this country and Europe.

Third—To collect for exhibition and display to all newcomers, in convenient rooms, specimen products from all parts of the state.

Fourth—To keep in convenient and ready form a list of farm properties for sale or for rent.

Fifth—To meet the immigrant before or upon arrival in this city, to make him feel that we have an especial interest in his welfare, to give him all and every kind of [illegible] and assistance possible.

Sixth—To aid him in finding a [illegible] location or profitable [illegible] his [illegible].

Relative to the preparation and publication of immigration literature, the commissioners have given close attention, careful that it should be reliable and specific in its character and commend itself by a conservative, sensible tone and general trustworthiness. In this respect the utmost discrimination has been exercised. In this connection it is well to say that the [illegible] [illegible] commissioners in discriminating [illegible] [illegible] of immigrants [illegible] satisfactory [illegible] [illegible] made upon arrival and which was [illegible] [illegible] of the literature [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the board has [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]. Some of [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] expense, not to say [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the state has been [illegible] [illegible] of Oregon and her conditions and secured by overwrought pen pictures by irresponsible notice writing tourists and especially by unscrupulous curb stone railway agents and runners in the Eastern states, that one of the most constantly recurring as well as the most difficult tasks falling to the province of the secretary is to endeavor to

THE EAST SIDE.

The Delegates from East Portland to the County Democracy—General and Personal Notes

Johnson, Keenan, Kelly, Casey, Anderson and other kindred spirits were yesterday busily engaged devising ways and means for the liberation of their coadjutor in anti coolieism, J. W. [illegible], who now languisheth among the common thieves in the county jail. The attempt to set martyr [illegible] [illegible] was unsuccessful on account of the [illegible] Judge Deady, the motto of whose court is:

If any fel'n fail
To give good bail
He goes to jail
Quick.

DELEGATES APPOINTED.

W. T. Burney, president of the democracy of East Portland, has appointed the following delegates to attend the county democracy: W. H. Ma[illegible], E. A. Rankin, Henry Parker, Joseph [illegible] Knott, John O'Brien, Herbert Dalton, T. W. [illegible], George F. Laskie, Walter Knott, James DeForest, Jerry Mahey, W. P. Case, Henry [illegible], rett, Mike Prady, W. F. Collis, A. H. [illegible], Charles Ferman, P. A. F. Starr, John Everest, S. Usher, Oscar Dellinger, J. H. Turk, Charles [illegible], Kirk Shelton, G. B. Fimpel, J. B. K[illegible], C. A. [illegible] and W. A. McCauley. The delegation will meet in caucus to-night at C. B. Fimpel's office on Fourth street preparatory to attending the regular meeting of the county democracy which will be held in Port and to-morrow.

NOTES.

F. H. Peckham of Carleton was in the city yesterday.

A meeting of the Chautauqua circle will be held this evening at the residence of Mrs. [illegible] Dunning.

Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell who have been visiting friends in the Nehalem valley during the past week returned yesterday.

Councilman F. C. Wheeler departed on the west side train last night for Corvallis, where he will remain on business until Friday next.

Prof. Crowhurst lectured to a large audience last night in the Baptist church. He will speak for the last time this evening at the same place.

Charley Hill shaved off the end of his left fore finger with a saddler's knife yesterday. Charley says business is dull, but that knife isn't.

A typographical error in the East Portland council report yesterday made the contract price for each additional lamp read $[illegible]. It should have read $3.20.

Harry Stuttsman reports a runaway which occurred on the Asylum road last evening. The animals were traveling so fast Harry says that he could not distinguish whether they were horses or mules. Probably some farmer's team.

Messrs. Shannon, Bloomer & Son, of the North Pacific Fruit Canning establishment of this city, have received a handsome diploma from the North Central and South American exposition recently held at New Orleans for the meritorious display of their canned fruits and vegetables.

H. R. Lewis returned on the steamer Columbia Monday, after an absence of two weeks in Sacramento, where he paid the last sad tribute over the remains of his father, one of the most respected pioneers of the golden state. Mrs. Elwood Bruner, wife of the distinguished attorney of that name, accompanied Mr. Lewis to Oregon and is now a guest at his home in this city.

Owing to the incarceration of his whiskers, G. [illegible] son of the Popular Politics, and other circumstances over which they have no control, the Merchants and Laboring Men's Anti Coolie organization did not meet last night. Fact is the great "movement" which was expected to turn Multnomah county politics topsy turvy and hoist various and sundry agitators into official prominence has about petered out in East Portland.

IMMIGRATION.

lessen the disappointment of those who have come here enthusiastic under these misstatements and false impressions. To so educate the intending immigrant that it will be impossible for any one to take undue advantage of him, either here or there has been one of the objects of the commissioners in the publication of this literature. Especially have the commissioners been at some considerable care to make the status of government lands in Oregon so plain that there need be no mistake or misapprehension about that feature. They have also thought it wisdom to discourage the immigration into this state of any more professional men, such as lawyers doctors surveyors bookkeepers and those of kindred avocations or of mechanics unless they have means with which to make opportunities by embarking in business for themselves. The immigration of laboring men is very pointedly discouraged. Hundreds of mechanics write to say that they have a fairly good place, but think of changing to Oregon. Invariably such people are told that it is wise to hold to what they now have. Farmers people looking for locations in the agricultural districts and those seeking for investments of money are afforded all possible aid and encouragement. Of these pamphlets 10 000 have been printed and distributed during the year. Additional the board has printed 120 000 four-page and eight page leaflets or folders which is an epitome of the pamphlet giving its salient features and such information as would lead the immigrant to seek the board in person or by letter for additional inquiry. Chiefly these folders have been intended for distribution among new comers en route to this city or through railway agencies east of the Rocky mountains.

During the year the board has received upwards of 15 000 descriptive pamphlets and papers from different counties of the state 4000 annual OREGONIANS 500 copies of the News 200 copies of the Standard 400 copies of the Rural Spirit 2000 copies of a Willamette valley circular printed in German and 1600 maps of the state which together with the farm lists on hand at the organization of the state board, aggregate 19 800 pieces of printed matter.

The plans to be adopted for the judicious and effective distribution of this immigration literature had to be worked out by such expedients as presented themselves to the commissioners as the work progressed. The railway managers having lines reaching west have co operated very fully with the board in this important work doing the state gratuitously a most valuable service. A large amount of printed matter has [illegible] into the hands of railway and [illegible] agents in Europe and [illegible] distribution [illegible]. In this way the board has been [illegible] correspondence with immigration railway and steamship people who are more or less interested in this state. At the rooms an open mailing book is kept and [illegible] every new comer is requested to place the name and postoffice address of friends in the states interested in Oregon. In this way about 11 000 names have been obtained, and to each address some sort of printed information has been promptly forwarded. These names have insured a very widespread dissemination of information about this state and hundreds of cases which might be mentioned resulted in adding numbers to [illegible] population of such as are in all respects desirable. All this is supplemented by—not only the regular correspondence of the board which is growing rapidly with each mail—but the letters of inquiry received by state county federal and municipal officials and citizens generally who send them to the board and request it to make proper reply.

In speaking of the dissemination of information the exhibit car must be especially noticed. At an expense of about $[illegible] which sum included the wages of an employe in charge the board fitted out and exhibited for sixty one days in August, September and October of '85 in half a dozen of the states east of the Rockies a large sized railway coach, filled with the products of this state. The car was exhibited to tens of thousands of people gathered at state and county fairs in the states referred to here, and judging by the great number of people who have either mentioned it after their arrival here as having influenced them in making up their minds to come to Oregon or have written to the same intent the car was an eminently practical agency for the work of the board. The journey of the grain car was an ovation from the start and so satisfactory in all ways as such an agency that the commissioners deem it the part of wisdom to repeat the effort during the current season.

The plan of meeting incoming immigrants before they reach this city inaugurated with the state board has been continued during the year. An agent of the board goes daily to a point some twenty miles from the city and there boards the incoming passenger train and begins his work among the immigrants. He is well supplied with printed matter which he distributes and adds some general information. This feature has proved very effective as is attested by the hundreds and thousands who come to the rooms and who express their appreciation of service rendered. A distribution of the printed matter of the board is also effected on each incoming steamship from California and with like results.

Once here the immigrant is made welcome, shown every possible courtesy given all the aid and information available and his settlement looked after. While a good many come without any knowledge of the state and no definite plan for future movements the majority come either with a very correct idea of Oregon and places in mind or in answer to appeals of those already here and with whom they have been in close correspondence. Through this correspondence the intending immigrant has been kept well posted on the actual condition of things has an assurance of work or a farm and can fairly judge by the advantages offered that he will be benefited by the change. This correspondence has given a great impetus to immigration during the past half year as there is ample evidence to show. These people are easily taken care of a ticket to the objective point and a little general information being all required. Those who have come without friends or purpose except in a general sense to settle come and go here and there for instruction look at this or that farm become visitors at the rooms for a week or ten days and finally under the kindly auspices of the board find a location. The help extended does not stop at the general information imparted at the rooms [illegible] the immigrant in all possible ways as to temporary location seeking friends shipment of goods and that sort of thing. It [illegible] has met with [illegible] him and his [illegible].

As a part of the proper attention due the new comer considerable attention has been given during the last half year to the collection and arrangement of an exhibit of Oregon products at the rooms in this city. While it was not possible to make very liberal expenditures in this direction as may have been desired because of its acknowledged intrinsic worth in this matter of inducement the contributions were generous and in this way the end sought has been reached.

So far as the exhibit is concerned perhaps nothing is more appropriate or tersely descriptive of it than the words "A magnificent grain gateway for the new comer." It is all of that, a splendid introduction to a state the name of which is a synonym for all that is superior in agriculture and a plenteousness that burdens the tables of the industrious [illegible] the joy of every citizen in it and containing within itself all the elements which go to make up the sum of a people's greatness and prosperity. The immigrant will not remain in these rooms very many minutes without being convinced that the claims of Oregon as an agricultural and fruit growing state have not been overdrawn—that a man can neither starve to death nor become very poor in this state if he performs a reasonable amount of work. He finds here that in growths which substantiate the statements made in the pamphlets issued by the state board.

It is no exaggeration of language to say that this display has never been equalled in this state and it is doubtful if any state in the Union can match it in a single year's harvest and growth. We have made some splendid and notable efforts at this sort of thing in this city but the exhibit at the state board rooms in the quality of the production the quantity shown, in the almost endless variety and novelty of the display and in the arrangement on the walls is entitled to all that is implied in the term finest of all. In every way the rooms are in an admirable condition for the work at hand and prove almost invaluable as a feature of immigration to the newcomer.

The reduced rate in railway fares in favor of the immigrant without its binding upon any contingency such as the purchase of land or location is another feature of the aid extended to immigrants. Immediately following the organization of the Oregon immigration board an appeal for a reduced rate of fare with stop-over privilege in favor of immigrants seeking homes in the state was made to the railway companies operating lines in Oregon. The request was granted by the Oregon & California company and was a very liberal reduction nearly one half on the long distances. The passage of the Hoult bill by the legislature made the legal rate four cents a mile but the rate offered to immigrants is a trifle less than three cents a mile. Following the adjournment of the last special session Manager C. H. Prescott of the O. R. & N. lines authorized the issuance by the state board of ticket certificates [illegible] the rate as those issued by the [illegible] company. Not only [illegible] saving of money at these [illegible] rates of great benefit to the immigrant [illegible] especially [illegible] with reference to the [illegible] privileges afforded. An immigrant can visit the [illegible] city into his [illegible] hand [illegible] look from the records there the general character of farms offered for sale [illegible] counties in the state together with the names of the owners [illegible] these tickets good for thirty or sixty days [illegible] personally inspect these places without [illegible] the extra expense of local tickets [illegible]. The saving in these tickets is a matter of [illegible] of importance to an immigrant who with a large family and a small sum of ready cash is seeking a new home at a distance from this city.

Under the fourth head we have the preparation of a record showing the number [illegible] of farms and unimproved tracts of land offered for sale or rent, the object being to gather at the rooms in this city all the practical information [illegible] immigrant [illegible] to effect a location and [illegible] would be impossible for him to obtain except at great expense of time and money. [illegible] of this [illegible] systematic work [illegible] would be necessary for the class of immigrants sought for by the board [illegible] and encouragement given to those who will add to the [illegible] and wealth and [illegible] productive power of the state [illegible] its agricultural strength rather than simply [illegible] numbers. A few helpmeets are greatly preferable to thousands of helpeats and the idea that the immigration [illegible] fort if in favor of a large [illegible] character is not by any means the [illegible] of the board.

The records show an average of [illegible] 500 farms improved and unimproved offered for [illegible] few for rent are always on the pages of the [illegible] kept for that purpose. Holders of large tracts evince a disposition to subdivide and sell [illegible] which is certainly a good indication. In [illegible] way this is being done in most of the counties in Western Oregon. The number of small farms offered and registered is very large, represent almost every county and prominent locality in the state and so varied as to acreage and price that the wants of any reasonable immigrant may be promptly met. The farm lists are classified by counties are always conveniently accessible to all immigrants, and every effort possible in the premises is made to save him trouble and expense in locating. When he makes a selection or a memoranda of a number of places from which he is disposed to make a selection, he is put into communication with the owner as soon and as cheaply as possible. While the fact has been, and by this report more than heretofore will be conspicuously demonstrated that the state board has been instrumental in largely increasing the permanent population of Oregon and that through its helpful influences there has been a large actual settlement on agricultural lands here of the three kinds—government railway and private—these people are not prejudiced favorably or unfavorably by the expressions of individual or official opinions or views. Whatever the decision of the newcomer, the board is not in any way responsible for it. In some instances where the immigrant is seeking a home of a certain value with soil and climate especially adapted to a particular kind of product and the secretary has knowledge of such a property on the records he points it out to the inquirer with whatever facts about it he may deem of value to the newcomer. It is a specific and helpful reply to the application for information.

During the year quite a number of the counties of the state have organized local immigration boards making a system of societies co-operating for the purpose of properly bringing the advantages of the whole state before the outside world. From these local boards and especially from those having printed matter and a local agent to whom new comers can with confidence be sent the commissioners have received a help that can hardly be estimated. They take this occasion to say to the officials of counties where such action has not been taken as yet that there is necessity for a prompt liberal and energetic movement in this direction. During the coming year a large immigration will come to the state and if each county is to have the fullest advantage of the aid of the board it is certainly very necessary that a carefully prepared and trustworthy record of the advantages and inducements of such county shall be in the hands of the commissioners for distribution to new comers.

The material or cash value to the state of each immigrant or new comer is a matter that has caused considerable speculation and discussion among statisticians their conclusions varying all the way from $10 to $_,?00. It is no doubt a difficult matter to make a rate of this sort and to open a debit and credit account for this increase and strike a dollar and cent balance is a matter of too much difficulty and too barren [illegible] results to undertake. But it is possible by a system of direct or indirect inquiry [illegible] here to keep such approximate data of each new comer as will give a very fair idea of what he contributes to the general wealth of the [illegible]. It is [illegible] doubtful that we [illegible] in the second [illegible] very limited [illegible] strongest possible [illegible] the state [illegible] number of the leading [illegible] bankers located in towns and cities in the interior as well as the testimony of business men [illegible] to show that the cash brought into the state [illegible] population during the past year by immigrants through the purchase of real estate saved Oregon from the consequences of a hard financial pinch. This is the [illegible] of several business men and financiers who have [illegible] intimate acquaintance with these matters. Dividing from the monthly reports of the year we find that for the first six months the average sum in cash or bank paper brought by each head of a family was $4 00. For the last half year the average has been $ 500. Taking $1000 as the average for one half of the number or $1 00 for each one of the married men registered at the rooms for the year and we would have about $1[illegible] 000 for the year. Even to make another average and put the possession of cash for each head of a family at $[illegible] and the aggregate would amount to about $[illegible] 000. There is data enough and in most of the cases registered it was made from direct statements of the immigrant to show that $[illegible]00 is but a fair average for two thirds of the married men who have visited the board gone out into the state under its help and auspices and in the majority of cases found settlement. This is the immediate money value. The ultimate value in the work and labor and money of the descendants of these people or their own value in a moral and social sense can not be estimated in this way.

Going over the register in detail in order to select persons who have brought considerable sums of money with them and in a large number of cases invested the money in Oregon we find much of interest in a consideration of this question of immigration as a mere business proposition. During September and October of last year twenty one persons came under the auspices of the board, whose money possessions aggregated $187 000. The board has been notified of the settlement of three of them and three or four more of these gentlemen are still in the state. In November a new comer put $30 000 into a stock farm. There were two or three large investments in farms in the winter and since the last of January the board has had notice of eight or more settlements involving $1[illegible]00 and it is known that the purchasers brought upwards of $ 0 000 with them two alone bringing $ 000. In February and March the books show eleven persons whose aggregate cash capital as given was $11 000 two of them bringing $ 500. Seven of these have made purchases of agricultural or stock land and become citizens. These are but a very few of the cases which might be selected from the hundreds of pages of the register.

As the whole work of the board is gratuitous and there is nothing contingent on the issuance of the railway tickets and no obligation of any kind imposed the commissioners have not been able to find any way in which the purchase of or settlement on land should be reported to the board. After the new comer has taken his information his ticket or card of introduction to the county agent he passes out of the province of the board and any report of his future doings as to settlement is a matter of courtesy if made at all. Whatever the board has been able to present in this direction is gathered from these volunteer statements a few letters from local agents or some other [illegible] in the sale or settlement. As regards the settlement of newcomers the ticket books used by the board are something of a guide. The number of single trip or one way tickets to the number of round trip tickets is about eighty to one. Nothing [illegible] take a single trip ticket who [illegible] to the [illegible] the price of a regular rate ticket [illegible] a few send for return tickets but in [illegible] they are changing location or [illegible] in the state. So far as is positively known [illegible] less than fifty of these have gone [illegible] the state. Most of those who changed [illegible] in search of government lands [illegible] by the board [illegible] immigrants coming to this city [illegible] the rooms. A good many have purchased [illegible] tickets to interior points where their [illegible] located. Others find friends [illegible] or drift into [illegible] advantage of the help of the [illegible] gratuity to the commissioners [illegible] way in which a careful and correct record [illegible] coming and going might be kept. [illegible] reports in the papers are not [illegible] the names of the Pullman [illegible] passengers are given the others. Oregonians [illegible] are all immigrants [illegible] that one half [illegible] have been [illegible] not visit the board rooms [illegible] settlement somewhere in Oregon. Add [illegible] already accounted for and [illegible] and the wealth is [illegible].

And for [illegible] the [illegible] of the state board, is [illegible] study is furnished by the [illegible] the general character of the new comer:

Average age	[illegible] years
Married men	[illegible] per cent
Married men with families	[illegible]
Able bodied	[illegible]
Able to read and write	[illegible]
Men reporting as permanent comers	[illegible]
Men with cash to purchase	[illegible]
From the Northwestern states	[illegible]
From the Middle and Eastern states	[illegible]
From the old world	[illegible]
Farmers practical	[illegible]
Mechanics	[illegible]
Laboring men	[illegible]
Professional and business men	[illegible]
American born	[illegible] 60

Among the professional men the bookkeepers predominate; most of the skilled mechanics are carpenters masons or blacksmiths. It is a noteworthy fact that the large majority have had an occupation of some kind chiefly that of agriculture.

It will be [illegible] to the great interests of Oregon [illegible] What was [illegible] possessed by the board [illegible] large [illegible] fruit [illegible] results the beneficial [illegible] permanent character [illegible] effective and far reaching [illegible] its [illegible] than [illegible]. As the [illegible] until now its management demands a good deal of labor [illegible] every one connected with the work [illegible] regarded by every [illegible] success and not only as justly as the company [illegible] yearly appropriation [illegible] liberal expenditures in this direction will unquestionably give the people [illegible] What has been accomplished the first year [illegible] difficulties attending [illegible] work ought to be [illegible] of public interest. A work like this [illegible] in its character requires and ought to have the cordial hearty co operation of not only [illegible] by counties but all that is possible in individual work and sympathy. No one [illegible] will concede that the practical solution of the question of how to improve the industrial agricultural and commercial interests of the state lies in large accessions to the permanent agricultural population—such people who do not come to Oregon to pick up or make their fortunes but those who come wishing and intending to make homes by honest, faithful labor. It logically follows that every citizen identified with the interests of the state ought to be an earnest helpful advocate of this work. Through the existence of this board Oregon has become an aggressive champion of her best interests—something she must be permanently if she is to hold her own with the states and territories on the Pacific slope. She has remained behind in the race because of either the lack of information relative to her vast resources or because of the erroneous idea of the merits of some of the competitors for immigration. It has never been desirable that a boom should be started by some unusual effort or undue excitement, but it is needful that our state shall share largely in the immigration of thrifty forehanded people of capital brains enterprise industry and muscle—an immigration that means the rapid development of resources which are unmatched anywhere in the Union. We want people who come to stay, come with the idea of becoming citizens to regard Oregon as their future home and not with the idea of a temporary home.

Such people have been coming into the state during the past year. Every county in the state and especially the more prominent localities have received some accessions to the population. In some of these places many new homes have been started. A good many of these have been commenced in the foothill region of the state a locality especially adapted to the general farming of men of small means. This immigration has stimulated the building of new wagon roads or improving old ones and in all ways the country is benefited. Almost every agricultural interest shows signs of progress and the commercial branches of industry have received a quickening impulse through this tide of immigration. [illegible] in [illegible] other way or more directly [illegible] can the wealth and the industrial energies of [illegible] Oregon be increased.

Judging from the statements of newly arrived immigrants but especially from the testimony embodied in the thousands of letters of inquiry received by the board the best results of the work of the immigration board will be realized during this and the next two or three years. Certain conditions of hard times East have operated against a disposal of real estate by the would be immigrant and this is the burden of hundreds of letters received each month from the Northwestern states. Again the work of spreading information about this state has been so systematic that Oregon, and what she has to offer newcomers will be well known all over the Union. Once this information [illegible] thus generally the results will be still more satisfactory. There is a constant increase in the [illegible] a wider range of territory from which they [illegible] continued pressure upon the board [illegible] almost every nation [illegible] under [illegible] of [illegible] rural and state [illegible] letters con[illegible] states where conditions of life and living are hard and cultivation of the soil [illegible] from the man or [illegible] writing, the interest of a colony has become a matter of almost weekly consideration. For the coming spring a dozen of these colony parties embracing from 10 to 100 families have been partly arranged for here.

As a final word the commissioners desire to express their thanks to the press of this city and state for the most unstinted favors which have greatly aided and effective made possible many of the most important features of the work. They are especially indebted to the managers of railways here and in the states for valuable aid in distributing the immigration literature of the board and for trackage and transportation of the exhibit car. To the county immigration boards which have so heartly co operated with the state association thanks are due and are hereby extended. Scores of citizens who have in one way and another given a helpful influence and encouraging words will accept the grateful thanks of the board.

YAQUINA BAY NOTES

NEWPORT April [illegible]

The Oregon Pacific will commence running daily trains the 1st of May.

Mrs J B Lee of Corvallis left on the steamer for a two months visit to the East.

The steamer brought in a large lot of fish plates bolts etc to be used on the extension of the O P R R from Corvallis to Albany.

Hotel accommodations are fast assuming proportions sufficient to accommodate the large amount of travel expected here this season.

The company building the steam coasting steamer at Oneatta mills have purchased the engine sails and other equipment and are pushing the enterprise as fast as possible.

Mr Oakes of Portland is here negotiating for the Ocean house. If he succeeds in securing it he will cater to the wants of the tourists and public generally in a scientific and affable manner.

Capt Lowell has ordered the sale of one of the first cribs built for the harbor improvement. It is now at the mouth of Mill creek. The use of cribs for jetty work has been found impractical.

Col Dudley E[illegible] superintendent of Wells Fargo & Co's express is [illegible] at the Bay View house. He will establish an office here the first of next month [illegible] enterprise.

TILLAMOOK ITEMS

TILLAMOOK April [illegible]

The [illegible] crop of candidates for office is very large here. I will try to let you know who gets away with the foodle after the election.

The traveling public will be pleased to hear that Mr Horace Lassell will again take charge of the hotel here. The change will be an agreeable one. He takes charge on the [illegible] inst.

The snow has about all melted out of the mountains and the Tillamook road is now open for travel. Three or four teams have already crossed it and the buckboard will be put on by Mr Mad[illegible] on next Wednesday April [illegible].

An accident occurred at the cannery at Hobsonville on Saturday last by which Jim Mapes was badly injured. Piles are being driven under the cannery the [illegible] and Mapes was working near the pile driver. A piece of the hammer which was of wood split off and struck him over the eye badly injuring the inner bone and causing concussion of the brain. He is now in a critical condition [illegible] hopes of his recovery are [illegible].

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, April [illegible]—Government bonds were dull and heavy. It is not often that stocks are as dull as they were today. At the same time the market exhibited a very strong undertone until after midday when there were fractional declines but it closed dull and strong at small declines. One cause for dullness was interruptions to telegraphic communication with the outside world owing to the heavy storm prevailing.

That Tired Feeling

Everybody knows what that tired feeling is. It afflicts nearly every one at this time of year, being caused by the depressing effects of the changing season and the debilitated condition of the body. The refreshing toning and vitalizing influences for which the system appeals will be found in Hood's Sarsaparilla, the reliable tonic and blood purifier. Give it a trial.

I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla when I was so weak I could hardly do my work. It has made a new person of me. All I ask of any one is to try Hood's Sarsaparilla and see its quick effect. It takes less time and quantity to show its effect than any other preparation I ever heard of. I would not be without it. MRS C A M HUBBARD North Chili, N Y.

Strength and Appetite.

I have used Hood's Sarsaparilla with such benefit as to astonish my friends. I have renewed my strength my appetite is good my cough is growing better. I feel like a different person. MRS A P PARKER Marblehead, Mass.

I could not sleep until after morning had hardly life enough to get out I had no appetite and my face would break out with pimples. I decided to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon began to sleep soundly could get up without that tired and languid feeling and my appetite improved. R A SANFORD Kent, O.
